UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF NEVADA

PHILLIP FORMAN, an individual,

Plaintiff,

vs.

UNITED HEALTH PRODUCTS, INC., a
Nevada domestic corporation; and
DOUGLAS K. BEPLATE, an individual,

Defendant.

Case Number:
2:19-cv-519-GMN-VCF

STIPULATION AND ORDER FOR EXTENSION OF TIME (SECOND REQUEST)

Plaintiff, Phillip Forman (“Dr. Forman” or “Plaintiff”), by and through his attorneys, the law firms of Marquis Aurbach Coffing and Carmel, Milazzo & Feil, LLP and Defendants United Health Products, Inc. (“UHP”) and Douglas K. Beplate (“Beplate”) (collectively referred to herein as the “Defendants), by and through their counsel of record, Frank H. Cofer III, Esq., of the law firm of Cofer & Geller, LLC, hereby stipulate as follows:

SUMMARY OF RELIEF REQUESTED

This stipulation is a request to extend the current discovery deadlines as set forth in the parties previous extension of the Stipulated Discovery Plan and Scheduling Order by a

1 period of sixty (60) days. This is the parties' request for their second extension of the 2 discovery deadlines.

3 Pursuant to LR 26-3

4 A motion or stipulation to extend any date set by the discovery 5 plan, scheduling order, or other order must, in addition to 6 satisfying the requirements of LR IA 6-1, be supported by a 7 showing of good cause for the extension. A motion or 8 stipulation to extend a deadline set forth in a discovery plan 9 must be received by the court no later than 21 days before the 10 expiration of the subject deadline. A request made within 21 11 days of the subject deadline must be supported by a showing of 12 good cause. A request made after the expiration of the subject 13 deadline will not be granted unless the movant also 14 demonstrates that the failure to act was the result of excusable
15 neglect. A motion or stipulation to extend a discovery deadline 16 or to reopen discovery must include:

- 12 (a) A statement specifying the discovery completed;
- 13 (b) A specific description of the discovery that remains to be 14 completed;
- 15 (c) The reasons why the deadline was not satisfied or the 16 remaining discovery was not completed within the time 17 limits set by the discovery plan; and
- 18 (d) A proposed schedule for completing all remaining 19 discovery.

LR 26-3

20 The parties therefore submit this stipulation to in order to set forth the information
21 required under LR 26-3(a)-(d). The parties respectfully submit this second amended 22 stipulation in order to establish that good cause exists to extend the discovery deadlines in that 23 a) Defendants did not produce written responses or responsive documents to Plaintiff's 24 discovery demands until a date one month following the entry of the Order initially extending 25 the discovery period (DKT#27) (based on communications between the parties, it appears that 26 Defendants either did not anticipate the amount of time required to assemble responsive 27 documents and produce their witnesses due to COVID-19 restrictions and other logistical 28 considerations); b) neither Defendant Beplate nor UHP, through an officer or director, have

1 been available or have been made available for depositions; and c) the parties continue to 2 experience setbacks and delays due to COVID-19 reschedulings, which are still occurring,
3 and continued difficulties in logistics such that these matters could not be . original discovery 4 deadlines were set without reference to the impact that the global coronavirus pandemic would 5 have, not only on this case, but on their counsel's ability to conduct matters in their usual 6 efficient course in the broader sense.

7 A. DISCOVERY COMPLETED

8 To date, the parties have already engaged in various aspects of discovery despite the 9 substantial hardships experienced thus far. The parties have already exchanged their initial 10 disclosures. The parties have all served their document demands and their demands for 11 interrogatories. Plaintiff has served his written responses to Defendants' document demands 12 and his written responses to Defendants' demands for interrogatories. Plaintiff has also made 13 his production of documents responsive thereto. Defendants have produced responsive 14 documents to Plaintiff's document demands.

15 B. SPECIFIC DESCRIPTION OF DISCOVERY TO BE COMPLETED

16 The outstanding discovery to be complete is the completion of Defendants' 17 depositions. If it appears, following the depositions, that existing documents were not 18 produced or that Defendants intend to set forth certain defenses, pursuant to which no
19 documents were produced, Plaintiffs will move to compel the production of those materials.

20 C. REASON FOR THE REQUEST

21 As set forth in the first request for a sixty-day extension of discovery deadlines, at the 22 time such request was made, the entirety of the discovery in this matter had been conducted 23 during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has left law firms riddled with delays in cases and 24 postponements of deadlines and hearings. In fact, discovery started during the lockdown 25 period, which persisted, and both the parties and their attorneys had limited if any access to 26 their offices. The parties were simply unable to complete discovery, or make substantial steps 27 towards its completion during the early stages of the pandemic and the resulting lockdown.

1 Thus the parties requested, and were Granted, an additional sixty days in which to complete
2 discovery.

3 However, while the first sixty-day extension provided the parties with some much 4 needed additional time to conduct discovery, much of this additional time was necessarily 5 allocated to the backlog of attention to other matters which have also been delayed. In 6 addition, rescheduled matters have complicated the parties' calendars such that certain matters
7 have had to have been further extended. Indeed, counsel for each party are small law firms, 8 which have been the hardest hit by the pandemic from a scheduling perspective.

9 Because this request is one suggested and insisted upon by Plaintiff, it serves to note
10 that there is good cause for an extension insofar as this request is made at Plaintiff's request, 11 Plaintiff requires the discovery sought, and Plaintiff was not at fault for the delay. As of the 12 date of the first Order Granting an extension of time, Plaintiff's document demands were 13 outstanding. Plaintiffs continued to request that Defendants respond to their demands and on 14 multiple occasions Defendants stated that responses were forthcoming. However, at each 15 point by which Defendants stated they would produce responses and documents, they failed 16 to respond as promised. In fact, the parties had to meet and confer to resolve Defendants' 17 wholesale failure to provide even written responses to the document demands. It was not until 18 Plaintiff finally advised that it would file a motion for sanctions by the close of business of 19 even date did Defendants finally make their production.

20 All told, Defendants did not produce their documents until one month following the 21 first extension Order, in the last week of October 2020. Therefore, the sixty days in which 22 the parties had to work was cut in half due to Defendants' delay. Moreover, another week
23 would be lost due to Thanksgiving break.¹

24 When Plaintiff finally received Defendants' production of documents, it inquired as to 25 when Defendants would produce witnesses for depositions. Defendants failed to provide any 26

27 ¹ In addition, counsel for Plaintiff would be preparing for an arbitration involving over 100,000 documents, 28 which was postponed from September for COVID-19 related reasons.

1 acceptable dates for depositions. Thereafter, Plaintiff followed up by telephone and was 2 advised that one of Defendants' proposed witnesses had a COVID-19 related problem (it is 3 unclear if said witness actually contracted COVID-19) and that scheduling would be 4 complicated. Plaintiff requested that availability be provided for Defendant Beplate, but 5 advised that he was busy with corporate matters. Plaintiff requested that dates be provided 6 for the depositions, notwithstanding the foregoing. Defendants never provided any dates they 7 would be available for depositions. Thereafter, Plaintiff followed up by email requesting that 8 Defendants propose dates for depositions. Once again, Defendants failed to provide dates of 9 availability or even to respond to said email.

10 Accordingly, even with Plaintiff's diligence in requesting and following up for 11 discovery responses and deposition dates, it was unable to complete the discovery required by 12 no fault of its own.

13 Therefore, good cause exists for the Grant of the requested extension. First, the 14 COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect lawsuits, arbitration, and all litigation matters. This 15 is especially the case for smaller law firms like those involved in this matter.

16 Second, as this request originates from Plaintiff, and it is Plaintiff who requires the 17 outstanding discovery, and as the delay in completing said discovery came at the hands of 18 Defendants, equity and justice require that Plaintiff be afforded the opportunity to conduct the 19 discovery it attempted to complete, and would have completed, but for Defendants' delays.

20 Finally, the nature of the outstanding discovery and posture of the parties tends in favor
21 of an extension. The remaining discovery consists of the deposition of the Defendants 22 followed by a determination of whether brief supplemental documentary discovery is 23 required. These are matters which are absolutely crucial to a determination of the case on its 24 merits.

25 Moreover, neither party would be prejudiced by the extension as they each consent to 26 this stipulation and no party has changed any position or posture in reliance on the current 27 deadlines.

In sum, the difficulties imposed upon the parties due to the coronavirus pandemic, in addition to the delays caused by Defendants in light of the need of the discovery by Plaintiff, constitute good cause for the extension sought.
